New 2018/2019 Schedule

What to Expect:

Beginning in the fall semester of 2018, the instructional day will be organized around designated class start times and fixed pass times. All classes (including labs and discussions) must start at the designated class start times below. Class will run up to 75 minutes, with the last 15 minutes of the 90 minutes reserved for pass time between classes.

Classes, seminars, colloquia, and labs requiring more than 75 minutes in any single meeting shall begin from a specified subset of the designated class start times: 9:00am, *9:45am, 12:00pm, *12:45pm, 3:00pm, *3:45pm and 6:00pm. See the 2018 FAS Schedule Change Faculty Legislation for more information. With the approval of the Dean of Undergraduate Education, once- or twice-weekly seminars of two hours may begin at 9:45am, 12:45pm, or 3:45pm.

The intent of new schedule is multi-fold:

- To prepare for and implement proper schedule blocks and passing time in preparation for the new Allston campus
- To decompress class scheduling across all days of week and times of day to allow for optimal classroom use and cause fewer student time conflicts by developing a more equitably spread schedule throughout the week.